

I do NOT support elimination of Element 1 as it helps assure the quality and dedication of operators on our precious ham bands. While it is true that most operators never use the CW mode, it is a quality of a professional communicator. Thanks for the opportunity to comment.